

JOSH

JOSH VINSON

FINANCIAL ADVISOR

SHORT BIO:

Josh earned a degree from the Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Science, graduating top of his class and with a tremendous amount of student debt. Over the next few years he paid down his debt and developed a passion for helping others take control of their own finances. He directs his clients toward passive income and strategic investing, helping them build a foundation that will last for future generations while still allowing for time to enjoy the present.

Long Bio:

Joshua Vinson graduated top of his class from the Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Science. In addition to all his accolades and skills, this education also left more than $160,000 in debt hanging over his head. Over the next several years, while working as a manager and director for numerous companies and paying back his student loans, Joshua developed a passion for financial stewardship and wealth accumulation, which he now passes on to others as an advisor with Kovar Wealth Management.

Having lived through his own financial rebirth, Joshua focuses on helping people from all walks of life reclaim their most valuable asset: time. Through passive income generation and steady, smart investing, he guides clients toward building a financial foundation that can last for generations to come, while also freeing up the time needed to enjoy life in the present.

Joshua pairs a healthy financial life with a healthy personal one, spending time golfing, enjoying the beach, serving at his church and traveling. While helping others find lasting wealth, he also hopes his work can help people discover the eternal rewards found in a relationship with the Lord.
